

THE METHODS OF THE ASSESSMENT OF THE QUALITY OF RESOURCES IN REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT MODELS

I.B. Russman, D.S. Chembartsev

The model of intersector interaction is developed for the assessment of an optimum trajectory of the regional economic system gross output. The methods of the assessment of the quality of used resources are offered. The difficulty of target achievement factor is included in the production structure; experimental calculations have been carried out.