

PECULIARITIES OF POPLAR PLANTATIONS OF VORONEZH CITY

V.V. Kruglyak

The data on reconstruction of poplar plantations of Voronezh city are listed in the article. The characteristic of preparations that were used for prevention of poplar fructification is given. Some peculiarities of poplar taxonomy and morphology are viewed. Variants of reconstruction for the purpose of partial or full exclusion of fructification as a negative factor are proved. The perspective spectrum of poplar for the forest-steppe region of the south-west part of European territory of Russia for the purpose of beautification is enumerated.