

PHARMACEUTICAL ECONOMY ASPECTS OF APPLICATION THE MEDICAL PRODUCTS USED AT INFRINGEMENTS OF A FATTY EXCHANGE

S. J. Kondraiov, N. A. Arustamova

The pharmaceutical market of the medical products used for treatment of infringements of a fatty exchange is characterized by fast growth of their nomenclature. For increase in medical feedback from expenses for their purchase rational process of their selection is. In the pharmaceutical market of Stavropol territory there is a number of preparations of group statins, including the domestic production, having reasonable prices and shown the efficiency at treatment of an atherosclerosis.