

RESEARCH OF INNOVATIVE POTENTIAL OF REGION

Koveshnikova E.V., Shchepina I.N.

In the article approaches to understanding of essence of innovative potential and its structure are considered. Parameters for estimation a component of innovative potential and results of its realization are offered. On the basis of the cluster analysis typological groups of regions on resource a component of innovative potential and by results of innovative activity are allocated. The received results can be used by development and realization of regional innovative policy.