

ECONOMIC-STATISTICAL ANALYSIS OF REGIONAL COMPETITIVENESS

A.A. Anuchin

The article is dedicated to problems of economic-statistical analysis of regional competitiveness. The techniques of economic-statistical research of regional competitiveness are included next stages: creation of model of regional competitiveness, selection of a system of statistical data, unification and aggregation of statistical data. For areas Central-Black Soil of economic region the integral index of regional competitiveness is counted, the factors of competitiveness is analyzed, the vectors of regional competitive development are built.