

THEORY BASICS FOR INTEGRATED GEOGRAPHICAL RESEARCH OF THE REGIONAL RURAL LOCALITY

Yu.V. Porosyonkov, O.V. Didenko

The article is devoted to the importance of integrated geographical research of rural locality and the main concepts connected with rural locality study as an object of modern scientific discipline - georuralism. Rural locality is defined as a compound territorial social and economic system with its own characteristics, relations, and quantitative and qualitative indicators.