

GROUNDWATER MONITORING OF MIKHAILOVSKY MINING ZONE (KMA)

Kumany M. V., Popkov R. A.

More than semicentennial history of Mikhailovsky deposit development negatively influenced all natural components. While technogenic exposures have a dominated and progressive tendency.

General problems of industrial mode changes of subsurface waters in Mikhailovsky mining area are denoted in the article, also water-bearing levels of the area are scribed. Besides there points on optimization of hydro-geological monitoring system.