

MENTAL REPRESENTATION CATEGORY: THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL SEARCH RESULTS

L. V. Layenko

The paper reviews the idea and known in cognitive science mental representation category (viewed as mental experience operational forms) models projected to the theory of meaning. Information representation forms relative flexibility, their place and role in mental experience structure as well as a rightfulness of prototype and obligatory and sufficient features theory combination at defining the word meaning are proved.