

SAMOKVASOV D.Y. AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF SLAVIC-RUSSIAN ARCHAEOLOGY

A.N. Golotvin

This article presents the analysis of one of the greatest archaeologists and historians of the last third of the XIXth - the beginning of the XXth centuries - Samokvasov D.Y. who has made an important contribution to the Slavic-Russian archaeology. His works are fundamental for subsequent studying of many archaeological problems in Slavic world and ancient Russia (archeological digging principles, studying sites of ancient settlement and burial mounds, Slavic origins, classification of antiquities). Thorough analysis of his works within general periodization enables the author to allocate 3 periods in his scientific work.