

SOCIALLY-PHILOSOPHICAL MEASUREMENT OF SOCIALIZATION OF THE PERSON

V.A. Zelianina

The article deals with socialization as a multidimensional process including different levels, structures, hierarchy of meanings. The process of socialization has always been considered to be a creative process, which is oriented to create a personality possessing all the necessary social qualities, moreover, socialization is interconnected with educational and up-bringing processes. The activity approach is the most essential one for understanding the subject matter and structure of socialization.
